

■ Classics Advanced Semester Program (CASP)

LISTED ON THE ARCHAEOLOGICAL INSTITUTE OF AMERICA (AIA) WEBSITE ■ ATHENS - GREECE, Spring 2010

PROGRAM DATES: Jan. 19 - May 14, 2010

APPLICATION DEADLINE: Nov. 15, 2009

PREREQUISITE: 1 year of Ancient Greek

PURPOSE:

- to provide a comprehensive curriculum to advanced undergraduate/graduate students who have a background and strong interest in the Classics
- to familiarize students with academic on site teaching and participation in field trips to archaeological sites and museums of Greece
- to encourage undergraduate students to pursue research orientated work

COURSES:

Athenian History from the Archaic Period to the end of the 3rd c. B.C. focusing on early institutions and the stages of political and constitutional development.

Instructor: Andronike Makres (D.Phil., Oxon).

Visiting Faculty:

Michael J. Osborne, Professor Emeritus, The University of Melbourne;
Professor, Peking University

Peter J. Rhodes, Honorary Professor, Durham University
Robert C.T. Parker, Wykeham Professor of Ancient History, University of Oxford.

Advanced Ancient Greek with extensive reading in the original together with the translation of selected texts of Greek literature. Instructor: Leslie L. Threatte, Professor Emeritus of Classics, University of California, Berkeley.

Attic Epigraphy featuring hands-on experience with inscribed historical monuments kept in the archaeological sites and museums of Athens. Instructor: Angelos P. Matthaiou, Secretary of the Greek Epigraphic Society, Editor of HOROS, et al.

Athenian Topography examined on the basis of ancient testimonies in the original, accounts of early and 19th century travelers and later archaeological excavations Instructor: Angelos P. Matthaiou, Secretary of the Greek Epigraphic Society, Editor of HOROS, et al.

Optional Modern Greek Language and Culture Course

For more info contact Prof. A. Scafuro

U.S. Liaison for HERC/CASP

Department of Classics, Brown University

E-mail: Adele_Scafuro@Brown.edu

or e-mail to : info@herc.org.gr

HERC: Hellenic Education & Research Center

13 Eptachalkou Street, 118 51 Athens Greece, Tel:+30 210 3428596, Fax:+30 210 3412766, www.herc.gr, info@herc.org.gr